“Human trafficking is a truly appalling crime where people are treated as commodities and traded for profit. It is big business, often controlled by organised crime groups who seek the maximum return for their investment at the expense of the health and well being of their victims.”

Paul Goggins MP (Tackling human trafficking – consultation on proposals for a UK action plan)

This is an all day conference bringing together social work and community care professionals, NGOs, the police, Home Office, CPS, lawyers and academics with a direct involvement with the victims of trafficking, to learn and exchange insights and information.

The aim of the conference is to help raise the profile of trafficking as an issue and to engender a greater understanding of how the system might better serve and identify these vulnerable individuals.

Discussion topics covered:

- ✧ What is trafficking?
- ✧ The problems in identifying the victims of trafficking
- ✧ The need for immediate protection
- ✧ Providing more durable protection
- ✧ The way forward

Speakers:

- ✧ Debbie Ayiro (Executive Director, Africans Unite Against Child Abuse)
- ✧ Jacqueline Bhabha (Harvard University)
- ✧ Neil Brown (Head of Reflex Secretariat)
- ✧ Kathryn Cronin & Nadine Finch (Barristers, Garden Court Chambers)
- ✧ Katherine Henderson (Partner, Browell Smith Solicitors)
- ✧ Mike Kaye (Communications Manager, Anti-Slavery International)
- ✧ Clare Tudor (Immigration Advisory Service, Glasgow) and
- ✧ Representatives from BAAF, the Crown Prosecution Service, the Police, The Children's Commissioner, the Separated Children in Europe Programme, Home Office, the Poppy Project and the Refugee Council.

After the conference, attendees are invited to a Drinks Reception at Garden Court Chambers at 6pm
