

Legacy Pledge Form

Writing a Will is one of the most important things you will ever do. After you've taken care of your loved ones, we'd love you to take a moment and think about including Anti-Slavery International. Charitable legacies are the foundation for causes like ours and are vital in continuing our work.

So thank you for considering leaving a gift in your Will to support the work of Anti-Slavery International. We recognise that your bequest intentions are a personal matter and you may wish them to remain confidential. However, if you are willing to complete this Pledge Form it will help us for planning purposes.

Legacy FAQs

What are the different ways of leaving a gift to charity in my Will?

- A pecuniary or monetary legacy allows you to leave a specific sum of money to Anti-Slavery International. It is possible to link this sum to inflation so that the gift does not depreciate over the years. Please consult your legal advisor.
- A residuary legacy allows you to leave all or part of the remainder of your estate to Anti-Slavery International, after other legacies and charges have been met.
- A reversionary legacy leaves your assets to a named beneficiary (for example, your spouse or other dependent) for their lifetime, with the whole or a portion reverting to Anti-Slavery International on their death.
- A specific or non-monetary legacy allows you to leave a specific possession (e.g. shares, property, stocks, pictures or furniture) to Anti-Slavery International to be retained or sold to provide funds for our work.
- A conditional legacy provides for the eventuality that if none of your dependents survives you, your estate will be left to other named beneficiaries including, perhaps, Anti-Slavery International.

What should I include in my will?

Anti-Slavery International would be delighted to receive any gift that you choose to make in your will. We suggest that you consult your solicitor, who will be able to advise you on the next steps. You should also obtain appropriate taxation advice on any proposed gifts of property under your will. Please note that a legacy should refer to Anti-Slavery International. Here is some suggested wording, to discuss with your legal and taxation advisors:

"I, [INSERT FULL NAME], give to Anti-Slavery International, United Kingdom (UK Registered Charity no. 1049160)

- the residue of my estate
- a proportion of the residue of my estate: _____ %
- the sum of £ _____
- other (give details below)

[free of tax] for the general purposes of Anti-Slavery International's work and I declare that the receipt of the Director or other authorised Officer for the time being of Anti-Slavery International shall be a good and sufficient discharge to my Executors."

How will Anti-Slavery International use my personal information?

Anti-Slavery International collects the personal information you provide to us in this form so we can record your bequest intentions and keep you updated on Anti-Slavery International's work. Your details will be treated in the strictest confidence and Anti-Slavery International will never share your personal details with any other organisation without your permission. If you would like to gain access to your personal information or require further details please do not hesitate to contact us.

In order for your legacy gift to Anti-Slavery International to take effect you must make a Will or make changes to your existing Will, known as a codicil. This Pledge Form is not legally binding, it is simply a statement of your present intentions. You are free to change your Will at any time.

Thank you for considering supporting our work in this way.
